LIPTON GIVES A CUP.

For Winner of Viking Class in Block Island Races.

The annual Block Island races of the New York Athletic Club are to be started on Saturday, June 21, the sailing yachts at 11 o'clock in the morning and the motor boats at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The sailing race is for decked or cabin yachts in cruising trim of 20 to 35 feet water line. There are no restrictions as to crew or sails, but to qualify as cruisers each yacht must carry lead lines, compass, charts, fog signals, two anchors and cables, one life preserver on deck and the regulation lights and cabin fittings, tanks, &c. The time allowance is ten minutes a foot on over all length, yawls and auxiliaries each 5 per cent. additional.

Five prizes are offered in the open event. There is also a prize for the handicap class in one division and a prize for the best time. The start will be off Whortleberry Island and the finish inside West Harbor at Block Island, 100 miles away.

The motor boats will race over the same course for the Thomas Fleming Day cup. This race is for cruising yachts of not less than 25 nor more than 40 feet over all, and rating ten times the square root of water line length. The prize must be won twice by the same owner before it is his property. Sir Thomas Lipton has offered a trophy for the Viking class in this race. This has to be won three times.

Flynn First for Flushing Cup.

J. F. Flynn with a score of 86—12, 74 won the second qualifying round for the Governors' cup on the Flushing Country Club course yesterday. M. P. Lewis with 87—12, 75 was second, and A. Barker third, with 103—21, 82.

Bryant Unearths Star Youngster.

Bryant's chances for making a ninth successful try at the Queensboro track and field championship on June 14 received a boost yesterday when Olaf Thunstrom, a ninety-four pound youngster, let out a few notches of his real form. Thunstrom travelled 50 yards in 6 seconds, 220 yards in 25 4-5 seconds and broad jumped 20 feet 2 inches. Thunstrom is expected to capture the three first places in the events for youngsters under 100 pounds.

Moriarty Will Turn Specialist.

Gorden Moriarty, the Queensboro distance champion, has received so many beatings by Fred Jenkins, the colored boy runner from Far Rockaway High School, of late that he is contemplating retiring from baseball. Nine innings in the box to-day and a mile run to-morrow never bring results in either, Moriarty thinks.

RECORDS OF PACERS ARE EXPECTED TO GO

Greatest Season Among Wigglers in Turf History Is Looked For.

PATCHEN II. DEPENDED ON

Braden Direct Also May Cut Down Figures He Hung Up Last Year.

Horsemen expect this year the greatest season of racing and world's record breaking from the pacers in the entire history of the turf. If the wigglers fail to come up to expectations it will be because they will have gone wrong previously to the opening of the mile tracks, for better material there never was.

The great pacers of 1912 almost without exception went into winter quarters sound, and this was particularly true of Joe Patchen II., 2:03¼, and Braden Direct. One, and perhaps both, should on last year's form shade the recognized world's pacing record for a mile against time. The fastest heat ever made in light harness was the 1:55¼ by Dan Patch, but it was behind a wind shield.

The real record in the open for a pacer belongs to Minor Heir, 1:58½, and this is the one that Joe Patchen II. may eclipse. The big bay stallion is absolutely sound and at Los Angeles late last fall, in a tryout, went in 2:00¾ so easily that he could have beaten two minutes. One year's benefit of a year in age and improvement, together with a special preparation for a flight, make many believe he will beat 1:58½ considerably.

As to Braden Direct, the public knows only that he is a great racehorse, and that last year as a four-year-old he reduced the world's record for his age to 2:02¾, and, therefore, wound up the season almost a second faster than did Joe Patchen. Always in his races his speed was husbanded and he was kept under cover. He is one of the Direct bulldogs and it is rather significant that most of the talk general throughout the country is not whether "Braden Direct can beat Joe Patchen, but whether Joe Patchen can beat Braden Direct."

The world's record for pacing mares will be beaten to a certainty if Evelyn W., 2:00½, remains in the flesh. One of the peculiar things about racing mares is that no mare ever held the world's pacing record, and with few exceptions no stallions. On the other hand the world's trotting record has been largely in the possession of mares, and in the entire history of recorded performances from the time that Lady Suffolk was the first trotter to get a record of 2:30 only one stallion, Cresceus, held the record. Therefore it is safe to say that Evelyn W. will not be dangerous, but she will be the first mare to go inside of two minutes.

Among the five-year-olds Braden Direct will beat the mark of 2:02¼, which was established last year by Don Pronto, and if he should fall such excellent five-year-olds, all stallions, as Walter Cochato 2:04¾; Del Rey, trial 2:03; Grattan Royal, trial 2:05½; Empire Direct, trial 2:06¼, and King Daphne, trial 2:03¼, will not permit it to remain long in existence. The record for a five-year-old mare has been on the book since 1899, when Lady of the Manor paced in 2:04¼.

Flower Direct, 2:04½, came near to it last year, and there is an excellent chance that it will be beaten this season, as the California filly Leata J. worked successive heats in 2:05¼. Among five-year-old geldings there apears to be only one rival for Coney's long standing records of 2:03¾, and that is Tommy Murphy's stake candidate View Elder, 2:12¼.

Impetuous Palmer stands an excellent chance of reducing Braden Direct's four-year-old colt record of 2:02¾. Last year he reduced to 2:05¼. Directly's three-year-old record that was the relic of the year book. Impetuous Palmer is one of the fastest horses that ever put his nose into a bridle. He has not been a good racing machine, but some day when he, track and weather conditions come together he will set the mark around two minutes.

The record for a four-year-old filly is 2:05¾, and has been standing since 1899. No filly has come near it for several years, but this season Anna Ax Me should lower it, as last year she won all the pacing futurities and took a record of 2:08¼. She is a big, stout filly. In fact her owner had to go before the Board of Review to prove that she was not then a four-year-old.

The four-year-old record for geldings may come off the books too. In 1892, when the bike sulky came into use, W. Wood paced a mile in 2:07 in California, and there the record has stood for twenty-five years. Last year on the Pacific coast there raced a three-year-old gelding called Henet that was unbeaten and took a record of 2:08¼, which was a new world's record for three-year-old geldings. This year he should remove the oldest of existing mile records.

The record for one mile in a race is Minor Heir's 1:59, and this should be beaten. It is hardly probable that the gelding record will be removed, as there is not a single high class gelding in training. The record for two heats in a race is 2:02¼ and 2:00¾, and was made in 1901.

The record for three heats in a race is 2:02¾, 2:01¾ and 2:02. Joe Patchen II., Evelyn W., Braden Direct, Vernon McKinney, Earl, Jr., and perhaps Don Densmore should reduce both of them.
